

CRep223

Tue, Mar 10, 2026 9:23PM 2:07:03

SUMMARY KEYWORDS

Necronetics, demonology, astrology, planetary alignments, Saturn Neptune conjunction, birth charts, Mercury Retrograde, soul growth, astrological transits, Western tropical astrology, Vedic astrology, sigils, consciousness transmission, ritual magic, UFO sightings., Astrology, constellations, lunar eclipse, blood moon, Saturn Neptune conjunction, Age of Aquarius, sidereal time, solar time, personal identity, human connection, technological change, education evolution, galactic energies, ancient civilizations, energy cycles.

SPEAKERS

Speaker 1, Speaker 2, Speaker 3

S

Speaker 1 00:00

I coming to you from the city of the weird exploring topics from the esoteric and unexplored to dimensions unknown, shining a light of truth on the darkest corners of our reality. Welcome to the curious realm. You you.

S

Speaker 1 00:49

Well, hello everybody and happy Tuesday night. Sorry about that, Facebook. You got started a little bit late, but just in time to see Bigfoot and all that kind of good stuff in the intro. Hope everybody is doing great tonight. Stay tuned. Coming up soon, we will have a special St Patrick's Day episode next week. We will also be talking next week with Dr John Hall. There was an amazing 60 Minutes episode done on the Havana syndrome, weapon, the discombobulator, as as our good president called it. We'll be getting into that and so much more with Dr John Hall next week, in the second part of the show tonight, we will be joined by Molly McCord, and we will be talking about astrologic energies and the way that, if you are a Zodiac follower, if you are a star chart reader, the way that astrology plays into our life, the way that these alignments of planets and stars and blood moons and lunar eclipses, solar eclipses, the way that all these things change the energies that are resonant in the world around us. And in the first segment tonight, I am very happy to welcome back our good friend Nathaniel Gillis. We will be talking about his concept of necronetics and and this idea of basically a race of demons spirits that have been around since the dawn of man or before that are using us as vessels through which to breed and continue on. Welcome back to the show. Dan Nathaniel, always, always great to have you on.

S

Speaker 2 02:46

Thanks, man. It's great to be back here with everyone, and you're one of my favorite hosts in the field. So thank you for the invitation.

S

Speaker 1 02:53

Always great to chat with you. I think it's all too infrequent, but it's also one of those your work is heavy and thick, and it's also, it's also one of those, it takes a little while for some things to develop. And over the last many months, since you were on last, you've had some great developments going on with getting the message out, getting the word out, before we get off with that. Nathaniel, tell us, how did you first come to the world of I guess, really the only way to put it softly and in a way most people might understand before we get into what necronetics is. How did you first come to the world of demonology and demonological study?

S

Speaker 2 03:39

Oh, I grew up in a haunted house, experienced a lot of phenomena, primarily when I was alone, and at the same time I was attending a local church, and got to understand my experiences and go into my leadership and having them kind of not really scoff at me, but they didn't really know where to put me and to put some of what I was encountering. And so at a certain age, I realized, number one, I wasn't crazy. Number two, if I was going through that, certainly other people were also going through it, and probably have wit to it their entire lives. And so I wanted to know what they had to say. I wanted to know what they could do for me, and if perhaps I could add to their pilgrimage as well. That's how I got into this is a direct encounter with the phenomenal.

S

Speaker 1 04:30

And what did that encounter do for you? A, what did it do to you? B, what did it do for you i

04:40

when it came to studying, oh, at first it was deeply traumatizing. And I mean, I'm talking about being paralyzed in fear at the age of eight, nine years old, and hearing disembodied voices talking to each other above my head, what's called direct voice phenomena. And so I went through all these. Experiences, trying to just figure it out, you know, like it was as different when I went to bed at night, the veil thinned in my room, and things would just happen, if anything, it gave me some kind of an immunity. You know, I've had cases where people have been murdered, and I had to go in there and cleanse the home or pray for the family and stuff, and I was never afraid, ever had some kind of confidence that I gained during those silent moments when I had encountered whatever this intelligence is. But that was, that was one thing, and something else kind of crept into my worldview. Number one, I witnessed different entities, or what people would consider different entities. And at the end of the day, my friend, I realized that these weren't separate entities. They were so one of the singular intelligence that was masquerading as various archetypes. And so that kind of changed my view. And then later on, I got a hold of one of the most famous press psychologist ever, although Steve Mera, and then, by virtue of a scientific method, and kind of corrected and confirmed everything that I had already believed. So it's been a fascinating life well, and let's, let's start getting into that belief real quick, because you, you mentioned something that I think, I think there are a couple of very important points to bring up before we really dig. Dig here, Nathaniel, and that is, that is, you brought up the point of intelligence, that there is an intelligence at work here.

S

Speaker 2 04:44

S

Speaker 1 06:12

06:36

This is, this is not

S

Speaker 1 06:39

a spirit, like a disembodied spirit that is attacking someone. This is not an entity in that kind of way. What is the differentiation between this and something like that, something like a haunting or a poltergeist, or something along those lines. Nathaniel, oh, man, hold on, just a second your connection, just

07:16

 Speaker 2 07:21
radiation Institute and so she really messed up.

 Speaker 1 07:28
Could you repeat that for me real quick? I'm sorry. Your connection went crazy. There for a song.

 07:33
No way can you hear me? Yes.

 Speaker 2 07:41
Are you are hear me now, yeah, okay, all right, good, oh, yeah, right, yeah, I'm right here.

 Speaker 1 07:50
Okay, so could, could you repeat that response for me real quick? Yes, yes, I am, yeah, yeah, yeah. So what happened within our classification system is that we got a lot of things wrong. Chris, a lot of things wrong.

 Speaker 2 07:58

 Speaker 1 08:05
Buddy, and in especially when it comes to that classification system, how do we once again tell the difference between the spirit, in that kind of way, the disembodied person, the soul, left behind, and what this intelligence is, absolutely so within demonology, there was an argument as to whether or not we are dealing with some kind of mutated consciousness. The problem is, is that, if that is, in fact, an incorporeal entity, then, how is it self replicating and impregnating female victims? There's a problem within that model. And so what early demonologist, even Thomas Aquinas, tried to do was, this is hilarious, at least from my perspective, was say, Okay, well, what they were doing is spiritually, makes no sense, right? They would go and they would collect secretions from a man, and then they would somehow reproduce with a woman, but they were spirits that have the ability to do that. It made no sense. And that's one of the instances where the classification system failed to explain what was really going on. And that's why you have people like Father, sister of Amino who came out and said, No, if they're replicating with women, there is corporeality there. It's not just consciousness. And so what I've done here within my field, necromedex series, kind of highlight a species that exists that that is, it has the ability to secrete it has the ability to reproduce with the human race, and whatever that is has been, it's not been classified or qualified or even even documented. Probably, I mean, we're still thinking their spirits, and that model has failed miserably. Well.

S

Speaker 2 08:29

S

Speaker 1 09:58

And you know. Think that number one, yes, I would tend to agree with you that there has been a at least when it comes to things like Roman ritual, when it comes to even, even the questions that I had. And, believe me, folks, my, my thoughts on my my shadow person, experience of a shadow person grabbing me have changed and evolved over the years. However, it was one of the many things that kind of began the unzipping of me from regular church going Catholic, and it was the fact that I took that experience to my spiritual director, and when I did, he was like, Well, Chris, you know, we don't really have, we don't we don't really have a teaching on that. And I'm like, What do you mean? You don't have a teaching on that? And just so, you know, folks, the Catholic Church doesn't have opinions. It doesn't teach there. It doesn't think things. It doesn't believe things. It teaches things there. That's what the whole Catechism is. Is the teachings of the Church, the pillars of the faith, things like that. And when you say like, you begin the pillars of the faith in the Nicene Creed, Nathaniel, and you say that God is the Creator of all things seen and unseen. I'm pretty sure there's a whole lot more unseen than seen, just in the universe as we know it, period. But when I come and I say something dark grabbed me and tried to come on top of me, you tell me you don't have a teaching on that when, when you tell me that there are dark things stalking around every corner, looking for my soul, stuff like that. So it began, it was, it was a shark that I could not jump, so to speak, as the only way that I could put it where it was, like you're asking me for to believe in something based on faith alone, and when provided some, some kind of inkling of this, you have, you have no response to it. And that, to me, was probably more disturbing, and I think, as you're saying, as I'm saying right now, I think slightly irresponsible in it is buddy. And the problem is a lot of people will follow dog about or interpret their data. And what I'm trying to do is the complete opposite, right? Because there is something that exists here on this planet that is in body and that, and I'm going to use this term very, very intentionally, and that the closest model that that looks like them would be like a species of a pulp practitioner, like not just a person, but a species of practitioners. And that's what senestrany really came to himself, was that on this planet, there's something else that exists, yeah, and what it's they're doing is they're performing rituals on their victims, and so that, and that's a whole nother show, my friend. But that's another example of how easily we get trapped within language, and that language is calcified within dogmatism. And then at the end of the day, we have experiences all across the world who really have no classification system for what they're what they're dealing with, and that's deeply troubling, especially for a researcher.

S

Speaker 2 12:24

S

Speaker 1 13:38

Well, again, you know, yes, when it comes to research, that is hugely troubling, because if somebody doesn't know a how to explain what is happening to them, right? And that's that's something that we discuss regularly with especially one of it's one of my true loves of the remote viewing community, is the fact of there is an international effort to make sure that everybody who's training in these specific protocols and in various disciplines are utilizing the same language, like hey, if we need to change what quote target means, because it means something different in German when used in the same way. There's a reason why science uses the metric system. We may use standard on all kinds of things here in America and maybe another place, but, oh, but aside from that, the metric system exists so that all of science can can communicate in the same way?

U

14:40

S

Speaker 2 14:44

Oh, well, let me, let me throw this at you, my friend, you're gonna, you're gonna love this, because it kind of puts things into perspective as troubling as it is. So the classification system failed because we were mythologizing the mass the phenomenon wears. You. And what that means is early, like early demonology, without any technology, we would go into investigations, and we would see things like apparitions, you know, UFOs sometimes being witnessed after these hauntings. And we thought that's what they were, right? Oh, it's, instead of, you know, it's, that's a UFO, that's a UAP, that's an apparition. We didn't realize that if we actually captured them on camera, there was no apparition. They were just balls of light. And so if you and I never had the technology to pick up the ball of light on camera, yeah, we would have went and mythologized the apparition, even though the apparition is just the result of the phenomenon diversifying itself in our presence, right? And that's why it's another reason, I guess, why the classification system falls apart, because if that's a construct and it's not real, yeah, then we're in deep trouble.

S

Speaker 1 15:53

Well, you know, man, that brings up something that I probably every show at least once that I mentioned, and that is, and I have a rope phrase for it,

16:04

S

Speaker 1 16:08

I believe that there is a large hominid species roaming the woods of North America and beyond, known as Sasquatch. However, I believe that there is also something else that is willing to use the trope of our mind and our want of experience as consent for a point of entry into this realm and and that's something that we have to consider folks as researchers, because we we may well Be like we may well be the one opening that portal. Nathaniel, like, that's, that's, that's quite literally, one of the reasons why I Ward investigators and researchers away from like, rabbit holing on the topic or the location that they're going to investigate before they go there. Like, you should be going as blank slate as possible. You shouldn't be thinking with the more you think about it, the more you're technically charging the area in that kind of way, and the more that you're also really opening that window, so to speak. For Yes, the experience to happen, but it may not happen on your terms.

S

Speaker 2 17:22

Oh, yeah, absolutely right. And that's one of the reasons I got I kind of stepped away from doing in home investigations and cleansings, is because I just, you know, you encounter things that you're looking back for a frame of reference. There's nothing. There absolutely nothing there. There's no playbook. There's no textbook. There's there's really nothing. And so that's when I went back to the literature. And then, you know, I found a couple other researchers I've worked with since. But, you know, we're on the same boat here. But what we're realizing is that there's a lot of models in the phenomena that we have to deconstruct before we're allowed and are able to move forward in the research. You know, I mean this whole thing that that if you're abducted by aliens, you just say the name of Jesus, that it'll work every single time. That's not true. And what ends up happening is that when it doesn't work, that individual is even worse off, because now they feel like there's something wrong with them. Maybe God doesn't love them enough. You know, that's a problem for me, because then I get, you know, emails and phone calls to people like that, and they're pretty tore up. Because now it's not just the fact of being taken that issue is compounded by people telling them they didn't have enough faith. Yeah, and that kind of grinds my gears, because how do you know how much faith that individual has? Like, you don't even know their name, right? You don't even know who they are. You just know it didn't work. And so that's where, like people, like myself and others in the field have to come around and say, Hey, listen, like there may be something else at play here. And it's just it's tough to be a position to be in for both a researcher and the instruments.

S

Speaker 1 19:02

Well, we're talking once again here about an intelligence and a and when we say that, I think it's important to add the word ancient to that, something that once again has been around and been rebirthing itself and basically cloning itself over and over and over throughout humanity. What kind of technology would would they be using? Because I mean it for me, if you go back and you start looking at like the lesser keys of Solomon, things like that, like even the fact of according to the stories in Hebrew tradition, things like that, that Solomon was given rain over Angels Demons had. Full control over them all kinds of things. But even then, our concept of angel and demon at that point was really almost much more like gin, you know, in in a in a way. So, yeah, how did these technologies a come about? How have they been used over time? And how are they being used now? Nathaniel and how can you quantify their use?

S

Speaker 2 20:32

Yeah, so again, let's go back to Aquinas. Let's go back to Sister adimino, where both of them acknowledge the existence of a self replicating species, right? And such was one of the very first technologists that came back and said, okay, there is something there that doesn't fall underneath a religious definition. And he knew this because of two things. Number one, the entities that were attacking these women were were combining their secretions with sigils. And so at first blush, you know, it looks to be a chaos magician. It's fascinating stuff. So we have that, we take that, we put that aside, and then we go to another case study of his aminos, where he is. He's going in there, and he's walking on a dirt road at night, and he sees this entity just emerge out of the darkness, out of the street. And he describes it as best as he could. He's like, you know, I knew this was not human. He's like, so the only thing I could do is that I had my holy water, I had my amulets, I had the cross. He's like. I went through every spiritual practice I could find, in the end of the just looked at him and kept and then walked right back into the woods, disappearing. And so then he asked himself, right he's a priest, so maybe it's his faith that failed. But then again, he's full of faith, so that's why he kind of realized that, yeah, there is an unclassified species out there. We have no classification for it. We don't know what it is. We just know that it seems to be a practitioner of high magic. And what's so fascinating about this as well is that they seem to be a part of a mystery school that transcends all known Mystery Schools and even modern magicians are just now catching up to where they were. This is why you have, like Austin, awesome and spar and his his phrasing of centralization that you have Peter Carroll, the grandfather of chaos magic, talking about how to transfer your consciousness into a fetus that you have impregnated woman with. So really, what we're doing is we're actively, actually remembering what these beings knew for the last 1000 years. It's just and I think again, that our federal government knows it's been occurring, but they don't know how. And so I think that, hopefully that's what necronetics will add to the field. Is kind of breaking all of this down for fellow researchers and experiencers, and then hopefully birthing something that will change the trajectory of the field forever.

S

Speaker 1 23:09

Well, you know, especially whenever you're talking about the idea of that, that rebirth, that bringing things forward, the one thing that it reminds me of, always, whenever we talk about this, is the homunculus, which, which was a creature from alchemical lore, basically, almost, almost like a golem that that you would create Out of biological material, and, once again, high magic, something like that. But, but, yeah, yeah, the idea that what, what would be the purpose for this, nothing, what is, what is the purpose of this ritual? And let's, let's clarify this a little bit, especially the ritual. Do we do we know? What do we know about it?

S

Speaker 2 24:05

What happened with the incubate literature in these case studies, is that they realized that there was an embodied entity that seemed to be a practitioner of the occult that was combining his secretions with sigils, hoping that they would project what has ever invent consciousness and entity into that new biological avatar? So we're not really talking about rebirth. We're talking about transmigration, not unlike the demoniac and the gathering right when they cursed him, the same spirits that went hand into him went into another body. You know, there were pigs, that's what I'm talking about, is the transfer of consciousness by virtue of ritual. And so later on, you have, or not even later on, you have, like in anthropology, especially in the golden Bill, you have what's called the red right? And that is a practice of an ancient warrior who, if he was mortally wounded on the battlefield. They had a practice where they would try to project their consciousness into another body to prolong their existence. So we would call that possession, but it's under different contexts. And so within demonology, you didn't just have possession, you had pregnancy, and not just that, but we've had cases in the book phenomena 16th century, both of those are being discovered in the same people at the same time, women were both possessed and pregnant. And so then you start to have asked the question, okay, what are they looking at? And then you have Peter Carroll's research in Lieber Knoll, where he discusses the red right in even greater detail, where he says, Yes, an adapt. This is the egyptus, by the way, will impregnate a woman, and then the avatar that she's pregnant with, the spirit within him, will take over that child as a new social skin. And so that is what's called a red right? Now, what's fascinating is in the red, right? According to Lieber Knoll and Peter Carroll, it's not just a spirit takes over that that fetal says its own body. It's the practitioner himself. And that's what I think sinistrari was trying to articulate, even to the limitations of his abilities, right? He didn't understand that. But that's why the sigils were there, because it was, it was central magic. That's why there were residuals. Were mixing with secretions, because what they were trying to do is to transfer their consciousness into another fetus that they had impregnated the woman with. Now that's called self replication and but that's the foundation of that grenades.

S

Speaker 1 26:38

So it's not like they were trying to create a doppelganger, anything like that. It's more the fact of they were basically trying to be and was the woman impregnated before this possession occurred.

S

Speaker 2 26:56

So in Safdie, which today it's called Safdie, Israel, this is the 16th century. You had about a dozen or so women who were accosted in the middle of an eye by an entity, that's your that's your Incubus, and they populated with them. And then, and then the next day, they're possessed. And then in the next three weeks later, four weeks later, they start having symptoms of pregnancy. And then it slowly evolved to where these rabbis and exorcists were interrogating the spirit within the pregnant woman, and that's when they give their account, right? It wasn't just a spirit, it was something else, another species they were dealing with, and that these women had two pulse in one body, two heartbeats in one body. And here's what's crazy, the moment the exorcism took place, right? I'm kicking out the consciousness. The phenomenon took the fetus as well, and these women ceased all symptoms of pregnancy. But what that did, though, is it changed the field of demonology, because these exorcists realized something that is absolutely profound. Are you pregnant by the unity, or are you pregnant with it? And that is the fulfillment of the ritual of the red rite.

S

Speaker 1 28:16

And is, has there ever been any, I guess, because, of course, these cases happened back in the 16th century, things like that. Has there been any carry on of this into the modern age? Has there been any repetition of this, any sign of this continuing into today?

S

Speaker 2 28:42

Yes, there has the problem is that once we get do the sigils on the skin, they're usually subdermal, and a lot of them have been invisible to the experience or the point where we have to go get an ultraviolet light, shine it on the skin, and then we see what's actually happened. So has the phenomenon evolved since then? Absolutely, absolutely. I mean, at least Okay, so the only reason we know of those cases of the 16th century is because they remembered them right. The experimenter remembered the events from the night before. Well, now what the phenomenon has been able to do is completely master that memory to the point where they're not sure exactly what happened, and now we have to actually go and do memory regression, or we have to go into some kind of other avenue of memory to capture the raw data, not just that, but again, if we're actually dealing with the result of centralization, then we're it's going to go through three processes, according to Austin awesome spar and other centralists, if you will, for lack of better term, where the body absorbs the symbol that activates it and then expels it. So somewhere in one of those states, it's underneath the skin. And so if we don't see it sometimes, so we have to get a light out and even test it. And that's what we just. Covered, yeah, like it's, it's in the middle of the three stages. So this phenomenon is still real. We call it the missing fetus syndrome. But what's happened within ufology, it's been repackaged as something that's extraterrestrial. It's just another one of those symptoms. You know, unfortunately, well,

S

Speaker 1 30:17

when we actually had a question by a listener, why do you Nathaniel, think that there's an uptick in UFO sightings, especially in the Middle East right now, as as the phenomena seems to follow conflict, does seem to follow conflict, and that it follows ritual, follows ritual. So I am not of the opinion. I know that there are people that are say okay, that they're going to save us. I do not believe that Tel Aviv is on fire. Hyphens on fire, you know. And I just don't, I mean, they could have saved us during the Holocaust. They could have saved us during Hiroshima. None of that took place. So I do not believe that there are saviors. I think that they're they're just monitoring us. They're curious. But it's not okay. It's not just that, that there is an uptick of manifestation in the Middle East. These things are everywhere now. And what's happening is that, like some of my colleagues and I, are connecting them to a cold areas like especially Brazil, you know. And that's some of Ronnie Rene's work where, and you guys have to look at his documentaries, fascinating, but the whole case study originated because there was an occultist who had performed rituals under the ground, and the next thing you know, these creatures show up. So there's a profound connection. And it's not a bug, it's definitely a feature.

S

Speaker 2 30:33

S

Speaker 1 31:41

Well, and let's, let's get into that real quick, the idea of, once again, these things being connected, because just last week, we were discussing, and we've discussed it with you before, and I'll bring up the image right now, but let's see. There we go. Look at that. I put CR into my Google and Crowley glam drawing immediately, so I will pop this up on screen for the audience. But what a lot of people do not realize, whenever you're talking Aleister, Crowley, whenever you're talking Novo Ordo temploris Was that the Order of the Golden Dawn, things like that that he started, that was started with L Ron Hubbard from Scientology, that was started with Goddard of the Goddard Space Institute. There were, there were quite a few people that were very, very deeply involved with very deep things, with our government and with with technology, things like that that were involved in this high magical society started by Crowley and during the workings that he did, which are part of what inspired Ghostbusters. Things like that during one of those workings was when they summoned lamb, and there he is. And this is, this is who became like an advisor, like almost a consul Gary to Crowley for years and years. And this was a dedicated summoning. This is what they wanted to do. It was part of what they were doing to, like, try to bring about an Armageddon, things like that. That's when they met lamb, and that's when Crowley started talking with him regularly. And when you look at lamb, folks, for those out there that are just listening, you're looking at a very large almond head, increased in size on the top, smaller on the bottoms, large almond shape. Eyes, small nose, small mouth, like it is, it is almost the quintessential gray.

S

Speaker 2 33:57

Let me freak you out for a blood body. You ready for this? Oh yeah, this is some crazy stuff. So sky watcher recently came out and said that they have been told by government insiders that the egg shaped UAP has come from the afterlife. Now you take that, you compare and contrast it to the Collins Elite model of the phenomenon where they said, Whatever these beings are, they're not coming from hell. They're coming from the afterlife. You take that aside, and then you go to what's called Lamb of the way, the Psychonauts workbook. It's a compendium of diaries written by lamb practitioners for over 20 years. Buddy, and these are people that perform rituals, and they actually contacted his representative or land himself in lamb Stan, he is the way, the way I am the way. Now, his egg shaped head was said to have been, I guess, the presence it. It held within him the actual entity that is lamb. And they had this so much that these these beings were telling these practitioners that you need to prepare yourself for the egg, because when you see the egg, that is the presence and manifestation of lamb, and then we have the X shaped UAP that we're being told comes from the afterlife.

S

Speaker 1 35:28

Well, in, you know that weird, it brings up so many things, because, you know, even, even whenever you one of the one of the images that I brought up before the show, because I knew that we would get to this is the cipher off the tree of life, the whole idea of a multi dimensional space and and how as as you vibrate higher and higher, you become closer to ether, things like that. This is, this is from alchemical text here, folks, the one that you're looking at specifically, but, but the whole idea behind it, and the whole idea that, yes, we know that we are entangled beings, that we are entangled with parts of the cosmos that were entangled with parts of other dimensions regularly. So, so the idea that, and this is a thing that we get into with CE five all the time, is sure, sure you can, you can see five all day long. But the problem is, once again, you are putting that call out in a very open ended, open fashion of please give me experience.

S

Speaker 2 36:50

Yeah, absolutely. And the problem is people, they get in over their head, and they're not prepared for what shows up. Because if you're not an initiate, and this is a fact. You know that things will go south for you, even if you aren't in this yet. That's what I'm saying. That whatever some of these beings are, they transcend all known models of vessel, terrorism. The only thing we do know is, yes, they are performing rituals, and we do have heads of that. I mean, again, chaos magic. But that lamb thing really freaks me out, guys, because it's almost like they were prepping their own practitioners. It was prepping, prepping his own practitioners for the presence of His manifestation. And it's almost like That's why sky watcher was told, yeah, that's from the afterlife. Now, if you were a part of the Collins elite and they told you that, right? Oh, that's part of the telling you that would fit right into their model. Right into their model.

S

Speaker 1 37:46

Yeah, yeah, precisely, and, and, you know, it fits into a lot of models whenever it comes to that, that control type ideology, so to speak, Nathaniel and, and especially whenever it comes to the fear based ideology. And I find it very interesting that even now as the UAP topic begins to come to the forefront all kinds of things, that it has very much become a question of dark versus light, Angel versus demon,

S

Speaker 2 38:22

absolutely, and that's unfortunate for us, buddy. I mean, okay, let me, let me say this, please, that we better hope like if they are, in fact, malevolent, we better hope they're just demonic, because I'm going to give you a case study that really bugs me and keeps me up at night. So you know, my buddy is Steve Mayer. We're colleagues. We do the NHI discussions weekly. A while ago, he had a conversation with Peter Robbins. And you know, Peter Robbins was the assistant of the great tower in bud Hopkins. And so he's like, you know Peter? He's like, he's a good friend, yes, of course, awesome, awesome researcher. But he's like, what's the craziest case study? And you know, what's the craziest case study you've ever, ever seen working with thought Hopkins. And he goes, Oh, Steve. He goes, we came across a gentleman who said that he was taken by these entities, and he said that they were trying to pull him through the ceiling, but something messed up, something glitched, he said. And so there I am, stuck inside of my own ceiling. He said, My legs are just dangling. He's like, they had to come and they had to literally cut me out. What? Whoa, yes. So I mean, that that's that blew my mind. I mean, I've been in the field for a little while, and I've heard a lot of crazy case studies, but, but again, that would be more along the lines of someone or something that has the ability to edit reality. And sometimes it works. Sometimes there are clear. Approaches, and what happens with US researchers is we go look for data, and we find the data because there are scenes inside of the dream. That's the only reason we're capturing it is because people are able to remember their abductions, right? And so it's, it's within these seams in the dream that we really capture the most germane data. But again, it's only because the Black Cat is being noticed in the matrix, right? That's the only reason, yeah, yeah, and that that even brings to bear the idea of like it, Does it even exist if it's not being observed in that kind of way. You know which, which is just nefarious when you begin to think about this, especially whenever you begin to think about what are the means by which, does do one of these entities, do one of these demons have to physically possess somebody, to take over their child or embody their child.

S

Speaker 1 40:31

S

Speaker 2 41:11

There we go. Now that would solve right? Because there was a big conundrum in demonology, and we covered that a little bit earlier. Spirit or flash, it's like no, no. What you have is a possessed person who is willingly, knowingly, right, impregnating and performing that ritual on that victim? Yeah, now he'll go later on, and that entity will then possess that avatar and then grow up. Now it will look like its father, but that's not who's possessing him. So that's necronetics, and it's a fascinating body of research, but it is very dark, and I got to tell you, it's not for everybody, and so I perfectly understand that well now when it comes to that transmission of consciousness, because I think that's that. That's the huge difference between the concept of humunculus, like we were talking about a while ago, the concept of Golem. Those are much more in the in the Frankenstein realm. Oh, yeah, where? Where they are cobbled together. They are made for a magical purpose. Yes, they are made as assistant, that kind of thing, but they are not necessarily made to carry on the consciousness of their creator or master in that kind of way. Now, when it comes to that transmission of consciousness through magical means and ritual means. Nathaniel, what? What happens, I guess, to the to the practitioner at that point, just like a bifurcation of consciousness, where the per generator and the practitioner continues and the consciousness continues and picks up in the infected child.

S

Speaker 1 41:53

S

Speaker 2 43:07

I believe 100% that's the case. Now, even getting back to the word Golem in Hebrew, that means fetus. Now we can use go into semantics here, but the first time that was employed in the Holy Bible was in Psalms when David says, You saw my unborn, unformed substance. Hebrew word is Golem. Not just that, but they actually took the Golem, meaning fetus or unborn substance, and carved on its forehead a Hebrew word, almost identical to civilization, right? See, we're practical or Kabbalistic practitioners, and so that's what we have here again, is this, and I'm going to say it, it is some kind of occult technology in this is what our government understands, is that a cult ritual transcends the scientific method. It introduces something that transcends and destroys all physics. There's no reason why these things should happen. Why? Because it's introducing an entirely different reality, and that reality plays by entirely different rules. And so from time to time, when the when the ritual is successfully fulfilled, though the veil will thin, you'll have two bubbles merge into one for a temporary moment. And that's what we call right, something like that, like a miracle, in a sense, right where, okay, this shouldn't be happening, but it is why, because something is being born through that ritual. And so it's not just that. I mean, this is something that's been bugging me as of late too. Again, is because ufology is trying to re contextualize everything, everything, even unintentionally. I mean, hybridism first began in demonology, the fetus syndrome first began in demonology. The witnessing of ufology first began. Really, and do. Technology. Here's why, because you have Marjorie Cameron, who was Crowley and Parsons elemental, who performs her own ritual, comes back and describes in great detail a craft that she saw after she performed it. I mean, even within the skull experiment, they also witnessed UAPs flying around and shooting lights on the table. Even John Dee and Edward Kelly, Enochian magic, right? They also witnessed UAP I literally just brought that up on screen, and was about to bring that up, and the idea of another one that, once again, using a technology, using a hidden set of letters that came to John D, that he was given, so to speak, that were bestowed upon him. And these were not, and believe me, I've looked, I've I have never found Enochian anywhere beyond the beginnings of John D in that kind of and by the by the way, guys,

S

Speaker 1 45:30

S

Speaker 2 46:08

S

Speaker 1 46:12

that doesn't just invalidate it either. No. And when you're How important do you think things like Enochian magic. Solemnity keys, things like that are for, I guess, understanding and decoding this Nathaniel,

S

Speaker 2 46:32

it's a connective tissue that should not be there. I mean, even when we have UAP whistleblowers like Matthew brown tweeting about Enochian magic. See, that's an issue. It's something, again, that people don't talk about because it doesn't fit in their model of phenomena. You know, it's just like, well, I don't even know how to talk about that. I don't want it to be true, but it is. And so not just that, but we have to also understand that the entity that claimed to be an angel told John D and Edward Kelly to swap partners, yeah. And when they did right, when they did, I'm not gonna get you monetized anyway. You know, I will sell. I'll leave that alone, buddy. But after they did that right, next thing you know, that entity completely changed, and they realized, Oh, my goodness, who and what are you? And what was the point of making us do that? And so again, that that kind of lends itself to that, yeah, like, yes, they have knowledge these entities, but they want us to do things that make absolutely no sense to us. Build me an altar, right? Give me a sacrifice. Well, what does that even mean to you? Like, how? What do you get out of that? And I remember reading some old books about idolatry within Levon, and these scholars were wrestling with that too. It's like, okay, their only argument, at least one of the most valid ones, was that the more time we give them on Earth, the more time they have in their dimension. And so they'll give us gifts, because what we're doing is we're giving them time. We're giving them some kind of energy. But even, to be honest with you, my friend, that kind of stinks too. Doesn't make any sense either.

S

Speaker 1 48:16

But even whenever you get into the lesser keys of Solomon, things like that, like they're either there are very specific rules for interacting with the with the Gen the angels, the demons, and they are described as angel or demon, and they have different purposes. They control different things. They control different aspects. They do different things and and you, you have to prepare yourself during the right astrological season in order to contact them. And these are the words by which you can bind them. But don't ask them these questions. You know? Yeah, it's fascinating when you get into it. And it's one of those like to me, especially the idea that

49:08

S

Speaker 1 49:13

that they play, even though we have that control, and even though Solomon was given that control, there's still a very different set of rules that they play by. They play by, right? And so we are being enchanted again by a mask. And now it's not like, it's not just the apparition being a physiological construct. No, it's literally, I'm making you think this is what I wanted from you, or I'm making you think I play by these rules. And then when you conjure me, you start to realize that you were the one being conjured the entire time, that I'm the one that put the idea in your mind to create a mortal portal of ritual and reality to where I can impregnate this place with myself. And then at that moment. Like, everything falls apart. It's like, oh my goodness, you know, like, none of this makes any sense.

S

Speaker 2 49:25

S

Speaker 1 50:07

Yeah, yeah. We have, we have just under 10 minutes left here, Nathaniel, and in that amount of time, because once again, this gets dark, it gets the only way, the only way it gets darker and real, or for most folks on this show Nathaniel, is whenever we talk about human trafficking, right? You know where it's like, no, that's that like, this is real too. It's happening in your backyard, folks. And believe it or not, it's one of those. The the thing that I am always reminded of is father Malachi Martin and his book, where he talks about the difference between obsession and possession, demoniac obsession and demoniac possession. He's like when I walk down the street, I see so many demons looking back at me. And what he meant by that was, we as people tend to become demoniacally obsessed with things. And it's, it's literally the step just before consented possession folks, the point, the point where you're just at the point of addiction, you're, you're just at the point of saying, Yeah, okay, I'll do something beyond means to attain this, or to get this, or to do this, you know, I'm just, I'm so in love with that chain. Oh, I'm just in love with that girl over there. It reminds me of love's gonna get you, you know the hip hop song, because that's, that's what it is. It's something that do, do we require consent for this to occur?

S

Speaker 2 51:52

Nathaniel, I think that the belief does play a role in this, and more so in the image the phenomenon uses to interface with so what I mean by that is I've had cases the past of experiencers where the entities manifest as their favorite cartoon characters. Sure. Well, the more they believed it was that cartoon character, and the more it empowered the entity wearing those cartoon character Exactly. And so belief is a form of consent. And lately, what my colleagues and I have done is look at this stuff and say, Okay, is there a way where we can trigger a glitch in the matrix, if you will, to where we can actually cause the scene in the dream to manifest, and in that fleeting moment, it gives us enough time to to, you know, weaponize our free will and hopefully shut the situation down. Yes, believe in their image. Guys. Let me see it like this. I know we're wrapping it up in the 50s. In the 50s, what we have here, we have is a memo where our federal government believed that the more you believed in them, the more they had the ability to manifest. Yeah,

53:09

S

Speaker 2 53:14

which is weird. I mean, literally, in the memo, it says that these entities, they exist with some kind of abstract physics, the more you believe in them, the more they manifest. So this makes me kind of question the narrative from the government, because if, in fact, that was true and they wanted us to believe they were aliens, then maybe that's literally the whole point. Yeah. Because if you believe in one model you're not believing in the other, which means that would stop them from manifesting to this dimension. And that's, that's weird, my man, that's weird, buddy. I don't even know where to go with that, because then it's almost as if belief is that which introduces other physics into this dimension. So then what is faith? Yeah, and it's, again, it's almost like we're tapping into a set of rules that they play by. And yet we see it being weaponized in the dark arts and then used as healing, for healing and miracles in the church. And so there's, there's something to it. I just think that that even the call is elite people like to frown on them because they think they're just a bunch of fun on the fundamentalists projecting the worldview. No, no, there are physicists, and their conclusions weren't very fundamental at all. And in fact, it calls them to lock down disclosure. And so even right now, there's a narrative within ufology that says, Well, you know, the Collins elite are trying to stop disclosure from happening, or time out. If they were, in fact, believing these were demons, then they would actually go tell the world they were demons, because that's called evangelism, right? We've confirmed our model is correct. We want the world to know. Yeah, that tells me. No. What they uncovered through data, not dogma, was something that terrified. So much as as Christians, as fundamentalists, right? They said there's no way we're going to tell the world this. We gotta, we gotta shut this down. And so two things can be true. Maybe it is the fact that they're in charge of disclosure, and they're not wanting disclosure to come out. But that doesn't mean they believe it's demons. So what people do is they conflate the two, yep, right? Because they just simply don't know enough to understand what's going on.

S

Speaker 1 55:29

Yeah, yeah, that's just it and and by doing so, um, whichever one is given energy they get to vampirically use Gus.

S

Speaker 2 55:41

We've seen that. I mean, then when cryptozoology, I have a dear friend of mine, Paul St Clair, in England, one of the leading cryptozoologists in the world, amazing friend. But man, he's had cases in Bolton and Benton and other areas where, you know, people will be walking in the woods, and they'll see this cryptic creature, Wolf Man follow them, and they're fleeing. They're running for their lives. They're terrified. One of them trips the entity literally standing directly over him. He's right over his neck, but as soon as he gets down to chomp on his neck, right? The entity just disappears into nothing. Yeah. But what was the point? The point was, again, to trigger fear and terror and so not just that, but some of these entities have actually been following cars that are going 4550, miles an hour. But here's a seam and a dream. These entities are barely moving their bodies. But how could they keep up? Because, why? Because that's a construct. That's not a real entity. It's not a real it's real, right? But what it's projecting, yeah, is a construct, and that's a glitch. And so a lot of these, and not just, we've seen that pathology within, even within ufology, right, where these entities seem to be glitching in and out, and it's just, it presents a problem with us, you know? And for the research, yeah, yeah. And especially whenever you start talking about, well, I bring it up all the time, the idea of vibration with with these things, the idea of dimensional vibration in that kind of way that that that changes a lot of things. It changes the way that physical things pass through each other, like you were talking about the gentleman who got stuck in his ceiling, that kind of thing, if you can, and if you can vibrate something. The example comes from, and I know it sounds crazy folks, but from flash in the DC comics where, where he would basically phase through a wall by putting his hand up to the wall or up to the surface of something, and match his atomic vibration to the vibration of the atoms in that surface. And then they would, they would just pass through each other. So the weird, the idea of that, the idea of a technology that could do that, or or even even, once again, magical technology. Because magic is technology, folks. It truly is. It is a system by which people, people have found cooperation with the non physical world. And just to loop this right back to the beginning of the conversation Nathaniel that that whole aspect of, I believe in God, the Father Almighty, creator of heaven and earth, of all things seen and unseen, never forget that second part like that is that is a pillar of the Catholic faith. And to deny that, I think, is hugely dangerous. And I think to deny and this is whether we talked about it last week with Bob spearing, we've talked about it with Earl Gray, God rest his soul. We've talked about it with numerous people, the idea that it's it's the fact that you are opening up an intent, you are opening up an open consent for experience, and if that is not bookended, if that is not cared for, if that's not I mean even, even whenever you read the the Gothia and the lesser Key of Solomon there, there, there are specific instructions on how to protect yourself and on what not to Do. And there ain't a whole lot of those instructions anywhere else. Nathaniel, so what can what can people do to protect themselves? What can they do to keep their eyes open to this as we close things out tonight?

S

Speaker 1 56:57

S

Speaker 2 59:56

So there are two things going on if in entity manifest. You question the image. Immediately, question its intentions. Immediately, try not to spawn into number three is that they seem to be weaponizing a certain frequency when they're manifesting into our local environment, and that frequency is being interrupted by iron. And so what my colleague Steve and I have been doing is talking about how you need to, you need to up your intake of iron, and what that does not just that, but get an iron. Amlin, I, I have an Iron Cross, okay, and it seems to be really working well for me, but that's what I recommend. So all those three that is that is fascinating, because iron in in magic is a grounding agent. It is something that is used as a ward against evil, as a ward against the evil eye. Things so everywhere, but there you have it. Folks. Nathaniel, thank you as always for your time. Thank you as always for your wisdom, your your deep, deep held knowledge on this topic. I love breaking into this with you every time that we talk, both privately and on. Answer. Always a pleasure. Brother, same here, same here. Thanks for hopping on short notice before we let you go. Let everybody know where they can go to keep up with your work, where they can go to find you all that kind of good stuff.

S

Speaker 1 1:00:45

S

Speaker 2 1:01:30

So if you want to follow me, you can go to my Instagram page. Nathaniel Gillis. You can subscribe to my YouTube channel under the same name, George did more in my work. Want to support it, or just follow me in a deeper way. You can go to para.symposia.com, symposia, like symposium, that's where you can follow my research. And I apologize for having to be on audio alone. I had said a really bad mix up tonight, and I couldn't change it. So next time, you'll definitely have to see my my ugly mug. How about that? I saved you guys.

S

Speaker 1 1:02:05

Always a pleasure, my friend, you take care speed and all that you do as always, and I'll send links all that kind of good stuff. All right, buddy, God bless. Have a good night. Hi. You too. Take care, man, wrong. Mute, always an amazing conversation with Nathaniel Gillis folks, truly, truly a great friend and a good guest. And the knowledge that he has on this topic, once again, there is demonology, and then there is demonology on another level. And I think that the work that Nathaniel has been doing on necronetics for the last few years, the last many years, is absolutely incredible. So make sure to stop on by, folks. Check his work out at Paris symposia.com. While you're there, make sure to stop on by. Curious realm. Curious realm calm is where you can like, follow, subscribe, curious realm.com, forward slash VIDEOS is where you can go to find all of the YouTube channels of our friends and guests, all that kind of good stuff. So when we come back everybody, we will be joined by Molly McCord. We will be talking about astrologic energies, birth charts, planetary alignments coming up this year, and what they will mean for us, all kinds of things like that. Right after this, the key to good science is good research. At the heart of good research is a good data set with the field observation and encounter log from curious research, you can easily keep track of your investigative information all in one place, making it easier to review cases and readily see comparisons and contrasts between them, whether out in the woods, watching in a back room, gathering EVPs or using high tech gear to track UFO, UAP activity. This easy to carry, pocket size scientific data log is the perfect companion for any field researcher. You can find your copy of the curious research field observation and encounter log@amazon.com or visit the official curious realm store at curious realm.com forward slash store to reserve your copy for yourself, your family or a mind that you want to Open that website again is curious realm.com, forward, slash, store, you.

S

Speaker 1 1:03:42

S

Speaker 1 1:05:00

Steve, Well, hello everybody, and welcome back from that quick break. Thank you so much for staying with us. Also. Thank you so much to our sponsors, especially true hemp science. If you're a user of CBD products like I am, stop on by true hemp science today. They are your source for amazingly crafted CBD products made right here in Texas. Folks, Christopher Lynch and true him, Science uses spideric process by which every part of the plant is used, every part of the hemp plant. Folks, that's the seed, stems, buds, leaves, everything is used, combusted, reused, and that process followed again and again until nothing remains but an amazing spideric product, complete with terpene profiles and all stop on by true him science. Today, the website is true him science.com the code that you want to use is curious seven to save 7% off your entire cart of $50 or more and get an edible on the way out the door as well. Folks, our guest in this segment is the amazing Molly McCord. She is the author of astrology and soul growth. Soul growth astrology, as well as awakening astrology. Her website is Molly McCord online. Her specialty is astrology. And amazingly enough, as we record this number one, welcome to the show, Molly. How are you?

S

Speaker 3 1:06:30

I'm great, delighted to be here and to have this conversation. Thanks for having me.

S

Speaker 1 1:06:35

Absolutely Same here. Astrology is one of, one of my hit points in the world, I'm not I'm much more into astronomy than I am astrology, and we'll get into that definition in a second. But there is something very special when things align. And right now we are looking at a couple of major alignments. Here it is from space.com. Actually the 28th This is being recorded on the 27th folks, but on the 28th there is a major String of Pearls alignment where all the planets of the solar system will be aligned along the horizon. There is a major conjunction right now between Saturn and Neptune the Blood Moon is getting ready to happen the the lunar eclipse. So it is. It is a fascinating, fascinating time in astrology and astronomy right now. This is one of those times when thing and then, not to mention just the general old Mercury Retrograde happening. So that's a lot to ingest in the top minute of a show talking about astrology model.

S

Speaker 3 1:07:49

It's not boring on planet Earth right now, right? Like, more than enough, yeah, if you want, if you want, an explanation folks, as to why things may be going so awry that that's just one week in astrology this week.

S

Speaker 1 1:07:53

S

Speaker 3 1:08:04

Yeah, yeah, and, and it's all significant on its own. Each of these events is important as a standalone and then you have them all lining up here, and we could feel quite scattered, overwhelmed, uncertain. We could feel like, what am I supposed to focus on with all these things going on in the world? And what I feel is really important here is that we're just meant to be open, Chris, to the things that are leaving, that are right on time, meaning we're not meant to be carrying a lot of things forward into 2026 because we're entering into a whole new era. And that's part of the Saturn Neptune conjunction that was exact on February 20, the Earth is literally evolving into brand new experiences. And we are feeling that we're feeling that something new is coming, that parts of ourselves are moving into new territory. So that's one of the beautiful gifts of the cosmos is that it can validate what we're feeling and sensing, but also remind us that, you know, we're in charge of our human experiences and what we want to choose next well.

S

Speaker 1 1:09:11

And you know, with that in mind, Molly, before we really delve deep into a, the Saturn Neptune conjunction B, the Age of Aquarius, which, which we are now on the doorstep of things like that. How did you first come to the world of astrological teaching? How did you come to doing astrology for a living, doing birth charts, things like that? Yeah.

S

Speaker 3 1:09:36

Well, it started as a very unassuming passion and hobby when I was a teenager, and the knowledge of astrology just always spoke to me and called to me, just starting with a sun sign, understanding, as we all do, then you go deeper into your own chart, which you can get for free, by the way, at any number of websites or apps you die. Dive into the particulars of your astrology chart, what each planet means, what each house means, what the aspects mean, and you start to see more of your own energy coming alive. And this is where it becomes very specific and very individual. So Chris, when I was younger, I just was following this as an unexpected trail of curiosities that just kept growing and kept unfolding. I studied with different books, different teachers, different mentors. I went into various areas of specialty study. Went to conferences, you know, went to classes, just ongoing knowledge accumulation to the point where I guess I was ready. I mean, it's really interesting to start reading for other people, because every chart is so different and so brand new. But there were some beautiful gifts that came through in doing the personal sessions, where people felt seen, they felt validated, they felt understood, and it opens up more of who you are that's maybe been locked away or hidden. So I just followed astrology because I could see how much it brought into people's lives, as well as into my own life. I was always tracking my own astrology transits, especially when things were really hard, when I was confused, I didn't know what to do next. It helped to sync me up with the timing of events, because there's some transits that last for two years, if not longer, and if you have that understanding that you're in a two year transit, you're going to adjust your expectations, not only of yourself, but of how things are going to progress. So it was a really great navigational tool for me, but it it continues to be so, I mean, I'm still always tracking my own transit. So in that way, astrology continues to demonstrate its value, and I think it also continues to offer people understanding into their own unique journey, that you're not here to be like everyone else, and that your path isn't going to be like everyone else's, and I think that's what people really love discovering well.

S

Speaker 1 1:12:06

And I think an important point to bring up at this point also Molly is the idea that your path is also not predetermined by your astrology. And I think that that is a huge, huge misunderstanding when people consider astrology, I think a lot of people truly consider, sadly, astrology as and don't get me wrong, like there is astrological divination, absolutely, but, but it's not necessarily a form of fortune telling in that kind of way, and it's not necessarily something that, like your path is utterly predetermined and chiseled that to you because of the house that you're ruled by or or the planet that you're born under. You know, things like that. Um, like you. I love that you said that, Chris, that's so important because it's meant to be a tool that supports your choices and your free will, and it will show you, you know the better choice or the harder choice. It'll show you the timing. It'll show you the themes that are coming up. It'll show you when, okay, this could be a tough six months at work, so how do you want to approach that? Or it could tell you this is going to be a fortuitous time for beginning a new project and taking something forward. How do you want to make the most of that? I feel like it always redirects you back to your own sovereignty and free will, and that's where we live from. So yeah, nothing is predetermined or set in stone. You are in charge of your energy and your journey, and Astrology can assist you with making the best of it, yeah, yeah. And granted that, let's, let's start at the beginning here, because I think before we even get into what a transit is, yeah, I think a lot of people get lost with the fact of even, even the whole planet, planet and house concept, let's, let's start with me, because I don't want you to do you August 28 1975 what planet would I be, quote, ruled by? And what does that mean?

S

Speaker 3 1:12:55

S

Speaker 1 1:13:43

S

Speaker 3 1:14:13

Molly, so August 28 means that you were born under the sign of virgo in western tropical astrology, and so your son is in Virgo, which means that you were born with the influences of Virgo, qualities, needs and expressions. Virgo is a technical sign. It's methodical, analytical. It looks at the small components, very intellectual. A Problem Solver seeks to understand efficiency and improvements, and so that would be a part of understanding who you are in this lifetime, which is also how I approach astrology, is through the soul's evolution. But Chris, it meant that you took a body with the sun in astrology so that you could embody and live those experiences and know yourself. Life through those qualities well.

S

Speaker 1 1:15:03

And those are, if anybody knows me, knows the fact of like, you can see my meticulousness, you can like, there's a reason why. Yes, I'm an audio engineer. Like, that's, that's what I do, is understand the forest and the trees and and it is a these are qualities that, yes, I fully consider intrinsic to me, Molly. But when it when it comes to planetary rule, things like that, how do you get into what what planet influences people specifically?

S

Speaker 3 1:15:40

So every astrology sign is ruled by a particular planet, and that's something that's been determined through centuries and centuries of study to look at what aligns and so with Virgo. Virgo is ruled by Mercury, and Mercury is the thinker, the ability to consider solutions, understand what's going on. Mercury is how you speak and communicate. And so in your chart, Chris, you would look at where Mercury is by sign, because it might not be in Virgo, it could be in another sign, and that would add in another layer of how your Virgo energy expresses itself through mercury. So this is where it becomes more specific to each person. And this is where it becomes that individual self verifying energy that only you would know, or others would know about you, but you would know as, Oh yes, I can see the accuracy in this absolutely, absolutely, once again, those I have, I have found at least my sign to be extraordinarily valid. And, you know, it's interesting because I've, I will always say that I utilize tarot cards. I do not, I do not divine with them. I do not do readings. Per se, I draw a card every day, and I meditate on that card and I consider the way. And this is kind of how I've always looked at horoscopes, things like that, even even a fortune cookie, folks. Is the idea of in a larger, more grandiose way, how does that concept enter into your life that day,

S

Speaker 1 1:16:37

S

Speaker 3 1:17:21

right? So that's a beautiful ritual, yeah,

S

Speaker 1 1:17:24

even looking at a tarot card and understanding what that card means, what the meaning of the card is, what it might mean that I drew that today, considering the challenges that I know that I have before me, the tasks that I know that I have before me, it can really make you frame things in a different way. And it's not necessarily a way that you are doing to move your life in that kind of way, but more a lens through which you see your actions and the actions that are put upon you during the day.

S

Speaker 3 1:17:59

Yes, yes. I love how you explain that. And I also wanted to note for people that just because Chris was born August 28 1975 doesn't mean that his chart is like everyone else born on that same day. You need three data points to create an astrology chart. You need the birth date, exact birth time and birth location, and it's these three data points that create the construct of the chart that sets it up in a certain way, that gives us the rising sign the houses more specific. So I want to let people know that it's those three specific things that make it unique for you, and then it's also unique because even if you were a twin, or even if there's someone born with those exact same data points, your soul is unique, and it's your soul's intention and your soul's essence that comes through you that can't be duplicated. So that's another important factor in the astrology that I practice and work with, is that it takes into consideration the bigger understandings of your soul in this lifetime as well, well. And that brings up an important point, because I bring this up regularly. My mother and I, I was born on my mother's 25th birthday. Wow, so her birthday is August, 28 1950 not to give away your age, mom, but, but, and we weren't born that far separate, within a within a three hour drive of location. So, and I know I was born, I want to say like 515, in the morning, something like that. Not really sure what hers was. But with that in mind, how does, how does that play out personally between two people? Is, is it the fact that two people's birth charts can, can, I guess, cause them to have conflagration in life, or cause them to have miscommunications, things like that?

S

Speaker 1 1:19:03

S

Speaker 3 1:19:59

So you're. Sun signs, you both would have sun in Virgo close, or what we call conjunct, and so there would be a natural synergy between how you are understanding yourself and what you're seeing in your mother. You would have similar themes in Virgo. But other than that, all the other planets in the chart can be in very different places, including your moon signs and the other personal planets, Mercury, Venus and Mars. But then what's even more significant Chris is that the outer planets are all going to be in different placements. So when your mom was born, that was a snapshot in the sky of where the planets were and what the energies were. And there, that snapshot is taken at the moment of birth. And then, of course, the planets keep moving, and they keep moving forward or retrograde. And then that will shift and change every day. So then 25 years later, when you were born, all those planets were in a very different place, which would create a new profile, if you will, of your energy. So this is where it's fascinating, because even though you share the same birth date, the Transiting Planets, the planets that are in motion, have moved into into different places, and that's important in how you would then understand your own chart. And of course, who you are as an individual, absolutely, absolutely. And I think now is a great time to actively get into the concept of transit and what a transit is, and what it means when somebody's planet begins transiting through different signs, through different parts or houses of the horoscope, so to speak. Yeah.

S

Speaker 1 1:21:18

S

Speaker 3 1:21:37

And so when you were born again, it's like a snapshot in time that creates your birth chart based on those three data points. And then the planets keep moving, such as the moon and the sun. The sun moves one degree a day, and the moon is moving between all 12 astrology signs in about 29 days, so every month. So these are examples of how the energies keep moving and keep progressing. And this helps to understand that we're always in cycles. We're always experiencing movement here, because the planets are also always moving. And so when we talk about, for example, Mercury Retrograde, well, retrograde is just an observational myth, because the planet doesn't really go retrograde. It's just what we observe from our place on earth that it's in retrograde. But this helps to understand that it's still in motion. So everything is always in motion, essentially, and it then relates to the cycles and timing of our lives and what we move through at an individual level.

S

Speaker 1 1:22:46

Now, when it comes to because, when we started this conversation, you specifically mentioned Western astrology and the idea because, and this is something that I've been teaching my son. We talk a lot of astronomy. In this house, we have tons of telescopes, all kinds of things. So he is well versed in his astronomy, and, you know, constellations, things like that, but he just learned that there are constellations that he doesn't get to see, that there are that there are parts of the sky that he'll never get to see because of the way that the Earth rotates and the fact of there are there are constellations much like, uh, Orion is not in the sky during certain parts of the year because it's under the horizon. There are constellations we just don't get to see period, right, because of how the Earth is situated, how does that play into things, and how does, how do different forms of astrology? How have they come about through generation?

S

Speaker 3 1:23:52

So the astrology I practices is Western tropical astrology, which is associated with the four seasons on earth, and that that signifies the seasons that we are moving into. For example, the upcoming Spring Equinox here in the northern hemisphere begins the astrological wheel at zero degrees of Aries. Then that takes us to the summer solstice, which is the next season in our Gregorian calendar, and that is zero degrees of cancer. So we have a very steady calendar that we reference in western tropical astrology, and it is actually 24 days ahead of where the constellations actually are. And that's another form of astrological study that is also used, and that is more of an ancient study of the sky, and that goes back 1000s of centuries, 1000s and 1000s of years, especially in Vedic that's related to Vedic Astrology, to Indian astrological understanding, also Egyptians and other ancient cultures would. Reference what we call side real or surreal astrology. And so Western tropical is different than that, because it's about the seasons of the calendar, and that's what many, at least North American I would say, or many Western astrologers, reference, is that form of study. But they're all valid, they're all significant, and they all give us information to support whatever we're understanding and moving through.

S

Speaker 1 1:25:26

Yeah, yeah. Because, once again, they're all about the same sky, technically, but, but they have different traditions. And even whenever you go in one of, one of my favorite apps that I use is Stellarium, and it's great. Shows you awesome thing, if you're looking for things that give you a real time view of the night sky, folks, and even show you like, hey, that moving object is a satellite in the satellite designation, feel free to use Stellarium. But one of the options that you have is what culture you want your constellations in? So, yeah, you can. You can choose the Greek culture, what have you. And it's interesting to go through the cultures and see exactly what those because it's fascinating. How many of them cross over. Sure How many? How many times different cultures across the globe throughout time have seen the same thing in the sky, looking at the same constellation, and how close the stories are, right?

S

Speaker 3 1:26:33

And that's where you have this accumulation of an ongoing knowledge base from all these different perspectives and understandings that has formed how we interpret astrology now, because astrology is built on 1000s of years of observation and understanding how the events play out. So for example, as you mentioned, Chris, we have a lunar eclipse coming up on March 3, which will be a blood moon, where the moon will turn red, which we should be able to see, I'm pretty sure, here in North America or in parts of the US, yeah. And I was even looking at how on the East Coast, it occurs when the sun is rising and I'm going to misspell the name, but I think or mispronounce, I think it's like a senilium, or senilium, senilium, thank you. A very rare senium Where you're going to see the moon, the moon and the sun at the same time. So I'm looking forward to that, yeah, because I'm on the East Coast, yeah, yeah. And it's only until I want to say Georgia, or something like that, that that's happening the rest of the country at at about sunrise, about 536 in the morning, we'll see the typical blood red moon lunar eclipse that we get every year.

S

Speaker 1 1:27:30

S

Speaker 3 1:27:47

And in ancient traditions that blood red moon was interpreted to mean certain things, such as war, because red associated with Mars, aggression, anger, like it could even mean like bloodshed. It could mean that something new is going to be birthed and coming to life. It means there's more intensity, more passion, more fire when the moon would turn red. So that is something that's also been tracked and noted through 1000s of years, is that when, when the sky is doing something, it means something to our human experiences.

S

Speaker 1 1:28:23

Yeah, yeah, exactly. And things like this specifically are something that, once again, are visible across cultures, when, when that happens, and yes, it's something that we discuss regularly on this show. Molly is the idea that we, as as opposed to even generations very close to us. My grandfather's generation, for instance, they didn't like they saw via oil lamp. They saw electricity come into their town, stuff like that. And his connection with seasons, his connections with stars in the sky, as far as what animals to hunt, when to put seed in the ground, stuff like that was much more intimate than my mother's, or mine or my father's, you know. So the idea that we have only recently in the last 100 years or so, really lost our connection with the stars in that kind of way, where a they they are probably not present, where you live, and all the city lights, yeah, we talk about that regularly in the world of MUFON and UFO UAP sighting things like that, like when planetary conjunctions happen Frequently, you can't see those planets within the city sky at all. So when they happen in that that planet, or those planets, grow two, three times as large in the night sky, and you can suddenly see them, and they're there, and they're there for a long time. They get mistaken for a lot of different things, sure, you know? And. And, yeah, even, even right now coming into, once again, numerous alignments in the night sky. We just had the conjunction of Saturn, Neptune, like we've been talking about. But how do these things affect energy? Molly, how, how do they radiate energy? How do they affect us without our knowledge, even, even the idea of lunacy being proven Sure, the concept that, yes, during full moons, water is reacted to differently on the earth, that there seem to be strange things that happen amongst humanity during full moons, things like that.

S

1:29:29

S

Speaker 1 1:29:31